TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinin Tablets All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. For sale by Haydon & Robertson and Waters & Browne.

Tetter, Salt-Rheum and Eczema.

The intense itching and smarting incident to these diseases is instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Eye and Skin Ointment. Many very bad cases have been permanently cured by it. It is equally efficient for itching piles and a favorite remedy for sore nipples; chapped hands, chilblains, frost bites and chronic sore eyes, 25 cts. per box.

Dr. Cady's Condition Powders, are just what a horse needs when in bad condition. Tonic, blood purifier and vermifuge. They are not food but medicine and the best in use to put a horse in prime condition. Price 25 cents per package.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with a pain in the chest or side, or a lame back, give it a trial. You are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. Haydon & Robertson.

Odds and Ends of Gossip.

GUBA.

A light shineth over the sea.
What doth this strange portent bring?
Anarchy, people, or king,
Answer ye, what may it be?

Not the dim light of the blade,
Not a pestilent star,
Not the bale-fire of war,
But the torch that Liberty laid,

Glows on Fernandia's shrine.
Turn thou who once wast a slave,
Turn to the beam that can save.
Fernandia, freedom is thine.

Bought with the edge of the sword.
Bought with the torture and thong.
Wrested from death and from wrong.
Hallowed by right and the Lord.

A light shineth over the sea;
The light of the morning is given,
A sister Republic is arisen:
Cuba, thy children are free.

TO FIGHT THE TRUST—The tobacco buyers of Kentucky, if one is to believe some of the trade papers and circulars sent out, are in danger from a trust and a meeting for tobacco producers has been called for Nov. 28 at Louisville to devise means to fight it. The troubles of the tobacco farmer are set out in a circular, which has been published and also sent to those interested. It is claimed that the growers have really no representative on the market at Louisville and that they have been compelled to accept prices offered by buyers who, it is claimed, represent a trust, or pay a fee of $1 50 for the privilege of rejecting the highest bid. The plan which is proposed and which is to be acted upon at the meeting is to appoint three commissioners from the state, to spend their time on the Louisville breaks representing the interests of the grower. The idea is to "bull the market" in tobacco at times when prices get below the price of production, by stopping the offerings until the demand forces the price. The farmers who agree to the plan are to sign a contract to allow these commissioners to control to a certain extent the tobacco sent to the market. In other words, the farmers are asked to combine, or to form a trust among themselves in order to fight the trust of the manufacturers, and the scheme is a good one if it will work, but then you know that it is a proverbial fact that the farmer is the hardest man in the world to get into an organization, even if it is plainly for his own protection.

GRAND JURY'S WORK—A good deal of a sensation was created about town, and especially among those citizens—the merchants—who were directly interested by the report that the grand jury had found an indictment against several of the local dealers in groceries and merchandise for violating the Sunday law by selling goods on the Sabbath. Later on, however, when the grand jury made its final report and turned in a bunch of indictments, the expected indictments did not materialize, although it is known that days were devoted to examining witnesses on that particular subject. It is said that a quiet tip was given to the members of the grand jury by Judge Patteson to the effect that they best devote their time to matters of more importance and leave the town merchants and their alleged offences to be dealt with by the town authorities. There is a town ordinance, so I understand that prohibits the selling of goods on Sunday. There is also a state law to that effect, but the local authorities have been inclined to overlook any small violatons as the merchants here indulge in, and they have been slight, no merchant making it a practice of keeping his store open regularly. The local saloon keepers, however, anticipating prosecution or indictment by the grand jury, have for some time, they say, strictly adhered to the Sunday closing law.

NARROW ESCAPE—Mrs. J. G. Mansfield received a letter one day last week from a brother for whose safety she had been very much concerned for several weeks past. Mr. John Chaney, a brother of Mrs. Mansfield, was among the large number of adventurous spirits who set out to brave the dangers of the Klondike region in search of gold. He, it seems, had reached the land of the seductive yellow metal safely and had succeeded in becoming the owner of several promising claims. This was several weeks ago and from the Klondike country Mr. Chaney wrote to his relatives that he would set sail for Seattle on the steamer Jane Gray. Some time thereafter there appeared in the papers an account of the sinking of the Jane Gray off Vancouver's Island. Out of the number on board 72 persons were lost and only 27 were saved. Mrs. Mansfield, knowing that her brother had sailed on the ill-fated vessel, was consequently in a state of great suspense, until several weeks after seeing an account of the disaster she received a letter from her brother, written from a town in the state of Washington, saying that he was alive and well and had been among the fortunate twenty-seven who were rescued when the Jane Gray went down.

NEW CHURCH—Springfield is to have a new church. It is to be of the Christian denomination and, as was stated in the NEWS-Leader last week, the church has been organized and there is a good outlook for its future prosperity. The Nelson Record has the following complimentary notice about the organizer of the church: "After a two days' meeting at Springfield, Rev. W. F. Rogers, pastor of the Bardstown Christian church, organized a church, with a membership of 53, composed of some of the most influential citizens of the Springfield community. Steps will at once be taken to erect a church building at Springfield, and Bro. Rogers will preach for the congregation one Sunday in each month. Mr. Rogers has been very successful in organizing churches of his denomination, and is one of the most energetic ministers of the Christian church. The people of Springfield can rest assured that under the management of Bro. Rogers they will soon have a church edifice and a thrifty organization."

A GLIMPSE OF PORTO RICO—Charlie Noe received the other day from his brother-in-law, W. W. Walker, who is with the First Kentucky regiment at Porto Rico, a photograph that gives what is no doubt a very realistic glimpse of life in that island. The picture is a snap shot of the camera at a groupe of native children, evidently from four to ten years of age, and there is not enough clothing in the crowd to wad a shotgun. In fact, the little fellows are posing in the "altogether," and the picture represents quite a study in black and white—principally black in this case. Other photographic views have been sent home by some of the other Washington county boys which give a very good idea of life in that country. One of the other photos viewed shows the Washington county boys of company K, taken in a group. The boys look tough, but are still recognizable by their most intimate friends.

THEY LIKE KENTUCKIANS—According to a dispatch from Ponce the people of that place would like to have the Kentucky soldiers with them indefinitely. The dispatch says that a large and representative body of Porto Ricans have drawn up a petition addressed to President McKinley asking the government to retain in Porto Rico Col. John B. Castleman and the First Kentucky volunteers. Gen. Henry has cabled to Washington that the compliment is thoroughly deserved, but that the regiment ought to go north. It is understood that orders to move have arrived as soon as the fifth regular cavalry arrives. It is further stated that while appreciating the compliment, the boys of the regiment are all more than willing to come home and leave the military work on the island to others who like the job.

Late Literary News.

It is not often that a contributor for a magazine spends five millions or so of dollars in fitting himself to write knowingly of a subject. But if popular report be that is, approximately, the sum which Joseph Leiter expended in the acquisition of the information necessary to prepare the article which appears over his signature in the November Cosmopolitan on "Wneat." This is Mr. Leiter's first appearance in literature, but he handles the pen with a bold, firm hand that shows him a man of resources.

Another Cosmopolitan contribution which will appeal to every man and woman is the attempt of Harry Thurston Peck to analyze the component parts of the modern Woman of Fashion. By what does waman fascinate? Is it beauty? grace? spirit? charm of manner? what? Evasive question! But Mr. Peck goes at it as a man who has studied and has had experience.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised my trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents a bottle at Haydon & Robertson.

About Tobacco Prices.

The tobacco-growing farmers all over the state are greatly agitated over the problem of prices for their tobacco. They contend that they are not getting as good prices prices for their tobacco as are due them. They claim that this failure is not due to the supply and demand of tobacco, nor to the quality of it, for good and bad tobacco are both low. They are of the opinion that it is all due to the manner in which the sale of it is conducted, holding that there is practically no competition among the buyers of the weed, the prices being agreed on among them and each buyer taking what he needs or his proportionate part of the day's sales. To remedy this, several plans have been suggested. Some, claiming that the warehouses are in "cahoot" with the buyers, suggest that no tobacco be sent to the warehouses to be sold, but that it be sold at the farm just as stock and wheat are sold to buyers who come around for it. But this plan has been adopted by the enemy, the tobacco buyer. Two or more of the largest buyers have agents in the state now buying tobacco right at the former's homes, for the reason that they can buy it lower there than at the factory. Another suggestion is that a combination of the farmers be formed to regulate the production of the weed, but others claim that such a plan would be met with opposition from the buyers so strong as to overcome their efforts. They all seem to be at sea as to the best methods, and farmer's conventions are being held to consider this matter.

And well it is that some steps are being taken in this direction for the lot of the tobacco raiser will be harder in the future than it has been in the past. Heretofore he has not had to compete with Cuban tobacco, but now that Cuba becomes a Colonial dependency of the United States this Cuban tobacco, raised by farm hands that get scarcely any wages at all, will be thrown on the American market in competition with tobacco raised by the American farmers. Prices are sure to go down, because Cuban tobacco has always been preferred to the Kentucky article. The acquisition of Cuba will prove a hardships to the tobacco raiser and may finally force him to quit the production of it.—La Rue County Herald.

Carpet rags dyed with Putnam Fadeless Dyes do not fade, are brighter and will not stain if you should spill vinegar or other fruit acids on them. 10c per package. Sold by Waters & Browne.

In Trouble Again.

Editor C. C. Moore is in trouble again, having been indicted by a federal grand jury at Cincinnati for "sending obscene literature through the mails," the particular point of offense being an article on free love, from the glowing pen of the sensational ecitor. The article must indeed have been highly realistic to have offended the sensibilities of a people that have habitually listened unmoved to the political speeches of the Hon. Allen O. Meyers.—Harrodsburg Dem.

Dangerous Pranks.

A number of the younger society boys of the town are getting into the habit of what may lead to the death of some of them, and it is not the habit of smoking cigarettes, but that of throwing rocks at their rivals. Not long since they attempted to have some fun out of a young man who has been making Harrodsburg his home but a short time. He called one Sunday night to see a young lady on North Main street. But a short distance away, in ambuscade, the boys waited, loaded down with rocks. When the young man started home rocks in quick succession whizzed about his head. Being armed he fired three or four shots in the direction from which the missiles were coming, and the boys almost broke their necks running to get away and have not bothered him no more. Two or three sixteen year old boys asked me to loan them a revolver the other night. They said a crowd was being formed to rock them that night and they wanted to put a hole through some one in the crowd. These boys that are harassed should take the police with them some night and have the guilty parties lodged in the workhouse.—Harrodsburg Dem.

A true family remedy at Waters & Browne.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Miahael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeles victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles found herself sound and well; now she does her own housework and is as well as ever. Free trial bottles of this great discovery at Haydon & Robertson. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

A Rival for Tobacco.

Charles Efros, a chemist, living at Fanwood, N. J., has invented what he says is a perfect substitute for tobacco, with which he deigns to revolutionize the tobacco industry.

Such an article has been the life study of Efros, but it is only recently that he perfected the product. Experts have tested it and were unably to tell the difference between the substitute and the genuine leaf tobacco.

The appearance, odor, taste, effect on the system, are all reproduced, the inventor says, and the difference between the genuine plug and the sham can only be told by microscopic investigation or chemical analysis.

The one essential difference between the real tobacco leaf and the substitute is the absence of the nicotine in the latter.

Mark Twain as a Stump Speaker.

Once in a while Mark has taken a hand in politics. On one occasion, being invited to speak in the interest of his fellow-townsman, General Joseph Hawley, who was a candidate for re-election to the United States Senate, he said, in the course of a droll address: "General Hawley deserves your support, although he has about as much influence in purifying the Senate as a bunch of flowers would have in sweetening a glue factory. But he's all right; he never would turn any poor beggar away from his door empty-handed. He always gives them something—almost without exception a letter of introduction to me, urging me to help them.—Ladie's Home Journal.

A Son's Return.

The house of Harry Perry, near Decoursey Creek, was brighted Tuesday morning by his return.

Some time in May last Harry, who is but fourteen years of age but who would pass for eighteen years, left his home in the morning to attend school. He did not return that day. He had to cross Decoursey creek, which was swollen and raging at the time, and the family thought that he had fallen into the creek. The police of the three cities were notified and a diligent search was made.

The mother was naturally grief stricken and the worst was feared. She wept day after day and could not be comforted.

Early Tuesday morning, before his parents arofe, Harry knocked on the door. His mother answered and asked what was wanted.

Kindly the good lady asked her son, who was attired in military uniform, into the house.

"The son then pulled off his blue coat and campaign hat and said: "Why, mother, have you forgotten me?"

She then recognized her boy and the greeting that followed can be imagined. Harry had been with the Second Kentucky Regiment.—Covington Commonwealth.

THE ELECTION.

Returns from the election in the various states show Republican gains everywhere except in Kentucky, and indications are that the Republican party will control the next national House of Representatives. In New York Roosevelt proved too much for Tammany, and Croker's organization concedes Van Wyck's defeat. A majority of 20,000 is conceded, but more than 40,000 is claimed. The returns also indicate a Republican majority of fourteen on joint ballot in the legislature, which would mean a Republican successor to Senator Murphy.

The Republicans claim Indiana by 20,000 majority, but the returns are not full. The legislature, which elects a successor to Senator Turpie, Democrat, is in doubt, with Republicans claiming it. The First, Third and Twelfth congressional districts are safely Democratic, and the Fourth probably Democratic. The Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh districts are in the Republican and apparently also the Eighth. The Fifth is close.

Ohio gave the Republican State ticket a majority estimated by the Republican State Committee at more than 50,000.

Minnesota, which gave a Republican plurality of 54,000 in 1896, is very close. The Republicans saved the legislature.

New Jersey has elected a Republican Governor by 12,000, and a Republican legislature to choose a successor to Senator Smith.

HOBSON WINS.

Returns from the counties of the Third Appellate district although not complete, show that Hobson is elected over Jones by a majority of from 2,000 to 2,500. He carried Marion county by 593, Nelson by 686, Taylor by 215, Anderson by 261.

MARION county voted on the question of free turnpikes on Tuesday last and the proposition carried by a majority of about 250. The Marion county officials if they are wise, will no doubt profit by the experience in other counties and remove the toll gates before the raiders take the case in hand.

THERE is one body of men that refuses to be hurried. The United States Peace Commissioners were unable to complete their reply to the statement presented by the Spanish Commissioners at the last joint session, and at their request the joint session appointed for Tuesday was postponed.

THE returns from Nebraska, the home of William Jennings Bryan, furnish the most unkindest cut of all to the free silver cause. The returns show the election of Hayward (Rep.) for Governor by a plurality ot 3,000. In 1896 the state went Democratic by 12,000 majority.

"FOR WORMS

and other bowel complaints to which children are liable there is no medicine equal to

AYER'S PILLS"

MRS. A. CASEY, Piggott, Ark.

PROBABLY the closest and the race that attracted the most interest was that of Oscar Turner, Democrat, against Congressman Walter Evans in the Fifth district. On the face of the returns it is evident that Turner is elected by a majority of about 500 which is small considering that there were nearly 30,000 votes cast in the district. The split in the Republican ranks is given as the cause of Evans' defeat.

CONGRESSMAN Dave Smith defeats Charlie Blandford in this district by a majority of from 2,500 to 3,000. The Democrats gain two congressmen in Kentucky—Turner in the Fifth and Gilbert in the Eighth. The Ninth is still in doubt.

THERE is at least one county in the state that don't want free toll. The free turnpike proposition was voted down in Jefferson county, mustering only 1,521 votes against 1,833 in opposition.

Parsnip Complexion.

It does not require an expert to detect the sufferer from kidney trouble. The hollow cheeks, the sunken eyes, the dark, puffy circles under the eyes, the sallow parsniplored ; ome xion indicates it.

A physician would ask if you had rheumatism, a dull pain, or ache in the back or over the hips, stomach trouble, desire to urinate often, or a burning or a scalding in passing it; if after passing there is an unsatisfied feeling as if it must be at once repeated, or if the urine has a brick dust deposit or strong odor.

When these symptoms are present, no time should be lost in removing the cause.

Delay may lead to gravel, catarrh of the bladder, inflammation, causing stoppage, and somethimes requiring the drawing of the urine with instruments, or may run into Bright's Disease, the most dangerous stage of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, is a positive remedy for such diseases. Its reputation is world wide and it is so easy to get at any drug store that no one need suffer any length of time for want of it.

However, if you prefer to first test its wonderful merits, mention the NEWS-LEADER and write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Bingbamton, N. Y. for a sampre bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Hobson

Lieutenant Hobson, of Merrimac fame, has done much since that historic incident at Santiago to ingratiate himself securely in the esteem and admiration of the American people. The indomitable pluck, as well as enlightened scientific knowledge he has exhibited in rescuing the hulls of the Spanish vessels from the sea, stamp him a man of high character. He has never ceased his labors for a moment since the deed that made him famous, where ninety-nine men out of a hundred would have taken a month off to enjoy the rare sensation of being lionized by a whole nation. As sailor, scientist and man he is of rare composition.—Harrodsburg Dem.

Tobacco Market.

A look at the monthly report of the Louisville market discloses a remarkable state of trade as compared with other years. On the first of the month the unsold stocks on this market only amounted to 8,699 hhs, of which 2,736 hhds were Burley and 5,963 Dark tobacco. This makes a reduction in stocks for the month of 2,305 hhds; more than one-fourth the present stocks. At this time last year stocks were 20,740 hhds. The receipts of the market up to the first of the month were only 59,311 hds, against 107,292 the same time last year. Which shows our receipts this present year to be about half as much as last year. With this kind of a statement of the market, we are having very unsatisfactory sales of tobacco and the rejections are heavy. It certainly is an evidence that the combining of the factories has given them the controlling of the market, and they are working the price as they see fit.—Louisville Weed.

A Queer (?) Medicine.

There is a medicine whose proprietors do not claim to have discovered some hitherto unknown ingredient, or that it is a cure-all. This honest medicine only claims to cure certain diseases, and that its ingredients are recognized by the most skilled physicians as being the best for kidney and bladder diseases. It is Foley's Kidney Cure. Haydon & Robertson.

Deadly Cancer Cured at Last!

Do Not Give Up in Despair—There is Hope!

For ages it has been thought that Cancer is incurable, and those so unfortunate as to have his dreadful affliction have considered themselves beyond hope of recovery. The doctors are absolutely unable to afford any relief, and the poor sufferer might well consider himself on the way to an early grave.

It is now easy to see why the doctors have failed to cure Cancer. Their theories have been all wrong, and hence their treatment misdirected. They have made the mistake of thinking that by cutting out the sore or ulcer, known as Cancer, the disease would be gotten rid of, and the patient restored to health. But the cruel knife accomplishes nothing, for the Cancer promptly returns, and is always more virulent than before.

It has been demonstrated, beyond doubt, that Cancer is a blood disease, and can not be cured by the surgeon's knife because the blood can not be cut away.

"Several years ago my wife had an ulcer on her tongue, which, though annoying, was not regarded seriously at first. It refused to heal and began to grow, giving her much pain. The doctors treated it for quite a while but were unable to do her any good, and finally pronounced it Cancer of a most malignant type. We were greatly alarmed and gave her every remedy recommended, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and it continued to spread and grow. Upon the advice of a friend she began to take S. S. S., and after a few bottles had been used a decided improvement was noticed, and continuing the remedy she was cured completely and the permanence of the cure has been proved, as no sign of the disease has returned, though ten years have elapsed.

H. L. MIDDLEBROOKS. Sparta, Ga."

The cures made by S. S. S. are permanent. It is the only blood remedy which can cure obstinate deep-seated blood diseases, because it is the only one which acts on the correct principle of forcing out the poison and ridding the system of it forever.

S. S. S. never fails to cure the worst cases of Cancer, Scrofula, Catarrh, Eczema, Contagious Blood Poison, Rheumatism, old sores, ulcers, etc., it matters not what other remedies have been used in vain. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed

Sure Cure for Hog Cholera.

During the past two years the Department of Agriculture has conducted a series of experiments in the use of a serum as a remedy for hogs affected by cholera or swine plague. The experiments were conducted by Dr. D. E. Salmon, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, and the results were eminently satisfactory, proving that the dreaded disease can be successfully treated easily and inexpensively.

The losses suffered by the farmers of the United States annually from hog cholera aggregate an enormous sum. In Iowa alone, during 1896, it is estimated that the hog raisers lost through the ravages of the disease $15,000,000.

Last year the experiments were conducted in Page county, Ia., the result showing a loss of only 20 per cent. of the affected droves. This year the experiments have been extensive and far-reaching. The bureau treated 922 hogs. Of these 170 died, the number saved being 81 out of every hundred. The loss was only 19 per cent. The animals treated comprised seventeen droves, and of the six droves lost only one hog in each. On the other hand 1,107 hogs in other droves were observed and not subjected to the serum treatment. Of these 879 died, showing a loss of 79 hogs out of 100.

The cholera serum is procured by keeping apart for treatment an animal—a horse or a cow—and injecting into its blood a small amount of the blood of a cholora diseased hog. This will sicken the subject, but it will recover, and another dose will be administered and so on, time after time, until finally its blood becomes so impregnated as to render it practically cholera proof. Then its blood is let and the clot drawn off, leaving the thin yellowish portion which is the serum. This is used to inject into the diseased hogs and operates to render them likewise cholera proof, or even cures them of the disease after it has developed.

A Romantic Wedding.

John Nugent, an Alabamian about 40 years old, was married here recently to Miss Sarah Crow. About three months ago Nugent applied for license at the county clerk's office. This brought out a novel incident in his history.

Nugent married a Miss Page several years ago in Alabama. Before her marriage Miss Page had been engaged to a young Alabama editor, who is a brother to a Massachusetts railroad magnate. The editor's fortune was at that time in the hands of his Massachusetts brother, who prevented his marriage to Miss Page. However, the youthful attachment between the editor and Miss Page continued after her marriage to Nugent.

When Nugent became aware of the situation, notwithstanding his fondness for the woman he magnanimously got out of the way and was an invitee guest at the wedding. Mr. Nugent showed Deputy Clerk J. H. Thomas a letter writter written him by the Alabama editor after his marriage to Mrs. Nugent, in which he reviews the situation in detail and closes by professing his profound respect for a man capable of sacrificing his personal feeling that the decree of fate might be consummated. Mr. Nugent carries photographs of the pair in question in his pocket.—Hartford Republican.

The Wheat Crop.

Lucas Moore, in his Kentucky Crop Report to November 1, says of wheat: wheat sowing was interrupted during October by the continued wet weather. In many counties the soil was too wet to cultivate for a period of three weeks, while in the most favored counties farmers were unable to proceed for a few days only without interruption by rain. At this date (November 1) a large per cent. of the acreage remains to be sown. Farmers generally had prepared their fallow land early and many seeded during month of September. This early wheat has been the prey of the Hessian fly and other insect enemies of the young wheat plant to such an extent that resowing of much of it has been found necessary. Where free from injury from insects early wheat has made phenomenal growth and some of it in fact has reached the "jointing" stage. A continuance of the growing season will soon render it liable to injury by the est freeze.

The condition of the crop averages 96 for the state. The highest average, 100, is shown in the southeastern district. In the central district the condition averages 95, and the average for the western district is 87. On November 1, 1897, the condition for the state was 62, and for a corresponding date of 1895 the condition was 98.

The estimates on acreage are, to a certain extent, unreliable, owing to the fact that a large per cent. of the crop remains to be sown. Preparations were undoubtedly begun for an unusually large acreage, but the injury to early wheat and the delay in getting the late wheat in the ground will affect the acreage and estimates to be made next month will be taken as final.

The estimated acreage at this date, taking the state, is 107, as compared with acreage of 1897. The largest increase is shown in the few counties of the southeastern district where the crop is grown. Here the acreage is estimated at 117, as compared with 1897. The acreage in the central section is 103 and in the western 105, as compared with 1897.

A Wealthy Beggar.

A well known beggar, who for more than twenty years has frequented the neighborhood of the Paris opera house and the Church of St. Roch, was prostrated by sunstroke. He was taken to the hospital of La Charite, where bank notes amounting to 300,000 francs were discovered in a leathern belt the mendicant patient wore.

The most of the poultry will go to the eastern cities.

CIRCUIT COURT adjourned on Monday after rather dull session. There were no convictions for felony. Two negroes, Lazarus Tucker and John Brooks, the former indicted for incest, and the latter for housebreaking, were not tried and the adjournment of court were released on their own recognizance to appear at the next term. They had been in jail for several months. The grand jury returned twenty-five indictments.

CONSIDERABLE excitement was created among the colored population last week by the action of Will Hurley, a young negro, who for several days and nights created a small "reign of terror" in the neighborhood of his former home on High street. To begin with, Hurley, for some wrong, real or imaginary, set upon and badly beat his wife Fannie, and would have killed her had he not been driven off. Foiled in his first attempt the fellow hung about in the vicinity of his home and at one time threw rocks through the window at the woman. Hurley seemed so determined in his attempt at wife murder that some of the negroes guarded the house against attack. Finally, on Saturday evening, Marshal John Grace received information that Hurley was in hiding in the house of Lizzie Hardin and he went there to attempt his capture. The negro made a break for liberty when cornered by the Marshal, and did succeed in getting away but not until he had been fired upon several times. Grace says that the negro fell at one of the shots but got up again and made off and has not been heard of since.

Election in the County.

The election in the county passed off quietly enough and there was a light vote polled. At the hour of going to press it is impossible to hear from three outlying precincts, North, Hendren and Brush Grove. Based on the votes at these places in previous elections, and with the returns from the other voting places the majorities of the Democratic candidates Hobson and Smith, are placed at between 175 and 200 votes. Below we give the vote as far as heard from. These figures are accurate as far as they go:

Springfield No. 8—Hobson, 85, Jones, 11; Smith, 77; Blandford, 104.

Springfield No. 9—Hobson, 150; Jones, 41; Smith 121; Blanford, 84.

Springfield No. 10—Hobson, 125; Jones, 88; Smith, 121; Blanford, 84.

Willisburg—Hobson, 79; Jones, 107; Smith, 75; Blanford, 105.

Mackville—Hobson, 114; Jones, 79; Smith, 112; Blanford, 79.

Pottsville—Hobson, 96; Jones, 59; Smith, 87; Blanford, 55.

Kelley's Shop—Hobson, 98; Jones, 48; Smith, 98; Blanford, 48.

Fredericktown gives Hobson and Smith majorities of 93 and Mooresville gives the Democratic candidates 83 majority.

—Miss Annie Cunningham goes to Louisville this week for a visit to relatives.

—Miss Jennie Withers of Ft. Worth, Texas, is visiting at the home of S. M. Karrick.

—Misses Jessie Williams and Martha Hays, of Maud, were in town Saturday last.

—Mrs. Florence O'Sullivan and son Edward, of Lebanon, are visiting Miss Willie Knott.

—Misses Lizzie Lisle and Mary Kirk and Mrs. W. H. Sweeney, of Lebanon, were here last week.

—Miss Ellen Wathen, of Bardstown Junction, is here for a several weeks' visit to friends and relatives.

—Miss Ada Shuck and Miss Zudie Harris, of Lebanon, were the guests of Miss Sallie McElroy Sunday.

—Mr. Graham Vreeland, of the Courier-Journal, was a guest at the home of C. C. McChord last week.

—Mrs. B. F. Deats and children have returned from a visit to relatives in Nelson county.

—Mrs. John W. Lewis, Mrs. George D. Robertson and Miss Mattie Robertson attended a euchre given by Mrs. C. C. Cambron at Lebanon Tuesday.

—Lieut. W. O. Reed, of Company K First Kentucky regiment, was greeting his many Springfield friends on the streets here Tuesday. He is direct from a hospital at Philadelphia, and lately from Porto Pico. He is thinner than when he left here with the army but otherwise looks well. Will is pleased with army life, and has many entertaining experiences to relate. He is on sick leave, and as the regiment will probably be sent back this month, he will not go to Porto Rico to rejoin it.

NE SON NOTES.

The Record.

A protra [illegible] was begun at the Bardstown Baptist church Sunday by Rev. I. Trotter. Rev. John H. Eager of Louisville arrived last evening and will assist in the meeting, which promises to be exceedingly interesting and will doubtless result in much good.

Tom Lewis and George Murphy, two negroes, engaged in an altercation at Bloomfield Sunday night, during which Lewis was shot by Murphy and seriously wounded. The weapon used was a pistol and the ball struck the negro in the head, but it is not thought that it penetrated the brain.

Wm. Batsel, a negro, was before Judge Daugherty Friday on a charge of stealing a watch from Dr. James Muir. Batsel was employed on the premises of Dr. Muir and found the watch in an outhouse where it had inadvertently been left by its owner. The timepiece was afterwards recovered and the negro arrested and tried, as stated above. It seems there was not much in the case, as Batsel was released on his own bond to appear at the next term of circuit court.

Diphtheria is now in Bardstown. Three cases, so far, have been reported, namely, a little daughter of Mr. J. H. Brown's, which is now about well; a child of Mr. W. H. Bemiss' and a child of Mr. Al Flanders'. The last two named cases were in a severe form and the little patients were in rather a critical condition. Antitoxine is being used in both cases, and a tube has been inserted in the Flanders child's throat. There are one or two more cases of the dread disease threatened, but have not as yet develoved. No new cases of scarlet fever have appeared within the past ten days, and it is hoped that the disease has run its c se.

The Successful Remedy for NASAL CATARRH must be non-irritating, easy of application and one that will by its own action reach the inflamed and diseased surfaces.

ELY'S CREAM BALM combines the important requisites of quick action and specific curative powers with perfect safety to the patient. This agreeable remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. All druggists cheerfully acknowledge that in it the acme of Pharmaceutical skill has been reached. The most distressing symptoms quickly yield to it. In acute cases the Balm imparts almost instant relief.

By Absorption.

Catarrhal sufferers should remember that Ely's Cream Balm is the only catarrh remedy which is quickly and thoroughly absorbed by the diseased membrane. It does not dry up the secretions, but changes them to a limpid and odorless condition, and finally to a natural and healthy character.

The Balm can be found at any drug store or by sending 50 cents to Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St. New York, it will be mailed.

Full directions with each package.

Cream Balm opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays inflammation, thereby stopping pain in the head, heals and protects the membrane and setores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils

A Sure Sign of Croup.

Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and it pleasant to take. Haydon & Robertson.

A CRITICAL TIME.

During the Battle of Santiago,

SICK OR WELL A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes. Their Heroic efforts in Getting Amunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler of pack train No 3, writing from Santiago de Cuba, on July 23d, says "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations but thanks to Chamberlains Colic Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy we were able to keep at work and keep our health in fact I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was an indirect savior to our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine before we left Tampa and I know in four cases it absolutely saved my life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co. DesMoines Ia. For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

SPAIN'S DECADENCE.

HER POSSESSIONS DWINDLING AND HER POWER VANISHING.

Once Her Army and Navy Were Famous For Their Prowess—What She Has Lost in Two Centuries—While Others Were Acquiring She Went Down Hill.

On his accession to the Spanish throne Philip II. found himself ruler of the greatest empire the world had seen since Rome was at the zenith of its power. Its navies were famous for their greatness and they ruled the ocean, its armies were famous for their prowess, she swayed the destinies of Europe, had possessions in all the continents, and may be said to have owned the Americas, North and South. Samuel Johnson, writing as recently as 1740, when complaining of the poor people's hardships, said:

"Are there no regions yet unclaimed
by Spain?
Quick, let us rise, those happy lands explore,
And bear oppression's insolence no

The Spanish empire was the result of marriages, conquest and discoveries; its decline and fall may be ascribed to the ruthless character of the Spanish people. The Inquisition and bull fighting were evolutions from this character; Torquemada and the matador were no more cruel than the nature of the people required. Cardinals were frequently prime ministers, and Tamerlane never treated Central Asians more mercilessly than Spain treated the Indians of North America. When Columbus discovered St. Domingo it had a population of 2,000,000; in 1530 this population had dwindled to 350,000. Cortez in Mexico and Pizarro in Peru were ideal Spanish conquerors.

In the latter part of Philip's reign Spain lost all, or nearly all, of her dependencies in North Africa, and early in the next reign Burgundy, Naples, Sicily and the Milanese.

1609—The Netherlands.

1628—Malacca, Ceylon, Java and other islands.

1640—Portugal.

1648—Spain renounced all claim to Holland.

1648—Brabant and parts of Flanders.

1649—Maestricht, Hertogenbosch, Breda, Bergen-op-Zoom, and many other fortresses in the Low Countries. In this year also she tacitly surrendered supremacy on the seas to Northern Europe.

1659—Rousilion and Cardague. Those places were ceded to France, thus making the Pyrenees the boundary between the two countries.

1668—Other sections of Flanders.

1672—Many towns and cities in Flanders.

1704—Gibraltar.

1704—Majorca, Minorca and Ivizza.

1791—The Nootka Sound settlements.

1794—St. Domingo.

1800—Louisiana.

1802—Trinidad.

1819—Florida.

1810-21—Mexico, Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Chili, Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay, Patagona, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, San Salvador, Hayti, San Domingo, besides numerous islands retaining not a foot of ground in America.

During all those years, while other nations were discovering new regions or capturing those discovered or conquered by Spain, the land of the Cid Campeador was going steadily down the hill. The only time she stood still for a moment was in 1860, when Marshal O'Donnell took Tetuan and Ceuta from the Moors.

In the heyday of Morosco ascendancy Spain had a population of 20,000,000, in the time of Ferdinand and Isabella 12,000,000, and in the beginning of the eighteenth century only 6,000,000. The present population is about 18,000,000.

It may be said in conclusion that education in Spain is limited to comparatively few. Thirty or forty years ago it was no disgrace for a Spanish grandee not to be able to write his name.

Prevent Pneumonia

Prevention is always better than cure, even when cure is possible. But so many times pneumonia is not cured that prevention becomes the natural act of that instinct of self-preservation which is "the first law of nature." Pneumonia can be prevented and is often cured by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Some years ago I had a severe cold and was threatened with pneumonia. I could neither eat nor sleep, and was in a wretched condition. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and took it according to the directions, and at the end of fifteen days was as well and sound as before the attack. I have recommended it in many cases of pneumonia since, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure."
JOHN HENRY, St. Joseph, La.

"I was attacked with a cold that settled on my lungs, and defied the skill of my physicians so that they considered me incurable. At last I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and was entirely cured after having taken two bottles."
FRANCISCO A. SEVERIANO, Taunton, Mass.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

is put up in half-size bottles at half price—50 cents.

Refuse of Photograph Studios.

"Refiners of nitrate of silver for the use of photographers," said a man engaged in this line of business in New York to a reporter recently, "have agents travelling constantly all over the United States collecting the waste clippings of sensitized paper that accumulate in every photographic gallery. They buy all they can find and pay for it in new nitrate, allowing the photographers a good round price for their waste.

"The waste is shipped to the refiners, where the nitrate in the paper is separated from it by chemical processes and prepared for market again. This re-refined nitrate is as good as it was originally, and is sold for just as much. The refiners, of course, make a big profit out of the waste, and the photographer is able to get a good supply of material for the old scraps that would otherwise be of no use to him.

"When one thinks of the great number of photograph galleries and studios in the country, and the fact that the waste paper of them all is closely gathered by the refiners at a price that will average $1 a pound, he may get some idea of the proportion of a business that is utterly unknown outside of the persons directly interested in the trade. Not only the scraps of silver sensitized papers, but those of the paper treated with a solution of gold, are eagerly sought by the refiners, and the photographer is always very willing to exchange his accumulation of, to him, worthless waste for a new stock of valuable nitrate."

The Japanese have entered largely into the manufacture of matches, and are now exporting 2,500,000,000 boxes

MODERN ARMY SURGERY.

For Good Reasons the Work of the Surgeon Begins When Wounded Reach Hospital.

"There seems to be a misapprehension on the part of a good many persons as to the modern medical service of the army," said an army surgeon who had been detailed for the Porto Rico campaign. "There is no sort of doubt that there is a general misunderstanding of what is required of a surgeon in time of battle. Many complaints have been made of lack of prompt surgical attention to the wounded at Santiago and an absence of system. It is asserted that there were not enough, if any, litter bearers, except the Red Cross volunteers, and few, if any, ambulances; that the wounded had to make their way unaided to the rear or else be carried by able-bodied comrades who were needed in the ranks. There may be truth in these charges, but if there is the blame should not be laid on the medical authorities in Washington. Nothing could be better than the system devised by them, and if there was failure at Santiago the surgical staff there must be held to account. For the division hospital 3 per cent. of the enlisted force is detailed. The able-bodied men thus taken from the ranks are subjected to severe discipline, are thoroughly drilled and have absolute and entire charge of the wounded from the moment they fall until they pass into the hands of the surgeons in the hospital. These men are provided with stretchers and are expected to keep close on the heels of the advancing line to pick up the wounded.

"The complaint that there was no surgical attention on the field is based on a misunderstanding. For good reasons the work of the surgeon does not begin until the wounded are brought to the hospital. This hospital must be outside the range of bullets and shells and far enough in the rear to be secure against demolition or injury in a momentary retreat."

Changes in Royal Titles.

An interesting writer has lately pointed out that the children of Prince Arthur, the only son of the Duke of Connaught, who is himself third son of the queen, will no longer be "Royal Highnesses," but merely nobles; and should these children have children they will be obliged to content themselves with the commonplace prefix "Mr." It is this fact that has induced the queen to issue letters patent, under the seal, declaring that the children of the eldest son of the Prince of Wales shall have, and at all times hold and enjoy, the style, title or attribute of "Royal Highness." Hitherto these children of the Duke of York had no right to being so termed. They were just plain princes, and their children would fare no better than their cousins of Connaught. This state of affairs results from the queen living to see three generations of her direct heirs, and it doubtless set her to thinking how Grandpapa Wales would like having an untitled great-grandson, with no place in the royal procession. Until the issue of these letters patent, little Eddie, David and Baby Victoria were nothing but commoners in the eyes of the law. It seems odd to Americans that this decree of the queen's should have lifted, quite a weight from the Wales' and Yorks' hearts; but what say the Connaughts to being left out in the cold with their plain "Your Grace" and "Mr?" They haven't been benefitted, and what is to become to them a hundred years hence?

THE BICYCLIST'S HUMP.

Assumes This Position in Blind Obedience to a Law of the Lungs.

It has been generally believed that fast bicycle riders lower their heads and bend their bodies to reduce the wind resistance of the body, but now comes a French scientist who says that this belief is wrong.

Dr. Elfer, well known in the medical world of France, has been experimenting with cycle riders to discover the reason for the hump-backed scorcher. He finds it in a blind obedience to the law that the lungs seek to draw in air with the greatest ease. In fast riding the air assumes a new relation to the lungs and the human body adopts a new position in the saddle. This position is, considering the new work, the only rational one.

Dr. Elfer says a profound savant has declared that "a horse runs with his legs and gallops with his lungs." This proposition is equally true for runners and cyclists. An inexperienced runner stops not by reason of fatigue but because of being "winded." If breathing is less rapid on the wheel it constitutes none the less an obstacle. The successful cycle crack must learn to breathe slowly and deeply to oxygenize his blood, and must avoid being surprised into quick, jerky breaths, which prevent the play of the lungs. This is the primary cause of a "stitch in the side." In the middle-distance race with Starbuck at Manhattan Beach last summer Fred Titus before he reached the tenth mile suddenly clapped his hand to his side and had to leave the track. Thoughtless persons hissed him.

According to Dr. Elfer the fault was not in Titus's spirit, but in his way of breathing. He dashed off from the start, and wise people knew that "Star's" time would come. Titus could be seen "swallowing" the air. No man who does that can get his second wind, and no man can win a long, well contested race.

Dr. Elfer says he has lived among the Indians and has never seen one finish breathless. The Indian may finish tired, but it will be his muscles, not his lungs, that give out.

Dr. Elfer shows that the principal obstacle to respiration is speed, which is greater with the cyclist than with the runner. So, not only is nasal breathing recommended, but the inclination of the head is best adapted to satisfactory breathing. Nose breathing is from the bottom to the top, while mouth breathing is the contrary. So the roof of the nose acts as a wind break. When the cyclist, as speed increases, lowers his head, the head forms a shield against which the shafts of air beat harmlessly.

As speed gets greater the cyclist lowers his head still more, until at his maximum of effort his nose is almost parallel with the course. The tendency to lower the head to influence breathing is unconsciously shown by any pedestrian who faces a stiff wind.

The Smallest Republics.

Goust is the smallest republic as to area, but Tavolara is the smallest republic as to population. Goust is only one mile in area. It is located on the flat top of a mountain in the Pyrenees, between France and Spain, and is recognized by both of those countries. It is governed by a President and a Council of twelve. It was established in 1648 and has 130 inhabitants. The President is Tax Collector, Assessor and Judge. Goust has no church, clergyman or cemetery. The people worship in a church outside of their own territory, and the dead bodies are slid down to a cemetery in the valley below. In that valley all the baptisms and marriages are performed. Tavolara is twelve miles northeast of Sardinia. It is an island five miles long by a half mile wide. Its total population consists of fifty-five men, women, and children. The women go to the polls with the men, and elect every year a President and Council of six, all serving without pay. The inhabitants support themselves by fishing and raising fruit and vegetables. The republic has no army and no navy.

GLADSTONE'S READY WIT.

A Few Instances In Which He Downed the Opposition.

Mr. Gladstone was once the victim of a reporter's curious error, either in reporting or telegraphing, which was that where in a celebrated speech he declared, "We have burned our boats and destroyed our bridges," he must have been horrified to read, "We have burned our boots and destroyed our breeches." The noted phrase "Time is on our side" was rendered in one report as "Tim is on our side."

"We are very proud of our trees," said Mr. Gladstone once to a party of excursionists from Lancashire, "and are therefore getting anxious, as the beech has already shown symptoms of decay. We set great store by our trees." "Why, then," roared a Lancashire lad, "do you cut 'em down as you do?" "We cut down that we may improve. We remove rottenness that we may restore health by letting in air and light. As a good Liberal, you ought to understand that." Lancashire set up a roar of delight, and the discomforted interrogator came in for many a fleer from his companions.

Mr. Gladstone dearly loved a joke, even at his own expense, and he possessed considerable mimetic powers. He was once guilty of an amusing bull in a debate on the question of disestablishment. Dilating on the hold held on the affections of the people by the Church of England, he said: "When an Englishman wants to get married, to whom does he go? To the parish priest. When he wants his child baptized, to whom does he go? To the parish priest. When he wants to get buried, to whom does he go?" The House answered with a roar of laughter, in which Mr. Gladstone himself joined, adding, "As I was contrasting the English Church with the Irish, a bull is perhaps excusable."

On one occasion two gentlemen, invited as guests at a table where Mr. Gladstone was expected, made a wager that they would start a conversation on a subject about which even Mr. Gladstone would know nothing. To accomplish this end they read up an ancient magazine article on some unfamiliar subject connected with Chinese manufactures. When the favorable opportunity came the topic was started, and the two conspirators watched with amusement the growing interest in the subject which Mr. Gladstone's face betrayed. Finally he joined in the conversation, and their amusement was turned into gnashing of teeth—to speak figuratively—when Mr. Gladstone said, "Ah, gentlemen, I perceive you have been reading an article I wrote in the —— Magazine some thirty or forty years ago."

Novel Philanthrophy.

Toronto is the scene of a novel form of philanthropy. It is the care of the teeth of children whose parents are too poor to employ a dentist. A local physician conceived the idea and sought the aid of the churches. He was ready to bear the financial burden alone, but he desired the church people to assist him in finding objects for his charity. His notion was ridiculed, but he persisted in it without assistance, expended much money in fitting up his dispensary and in employing assistants, and last year he cared for the teeth of nearly two thousand children. He seeks no aid from any quarter, but finds it necessary occasionally to appeal to the citizens to furnish him with the names of people who cannot afford to spend money on their children's teeth.

An Accommodating Master.

During the great strike a few years ago among the employes of the North British railway much difficulty was experienced in finding qualified engine drivers. Upon one occasion a young fellow was put upon a section in Fife. One day he ran some distance past a station, and upon putting back he went as far the other way. The station master, seeing him preparing for another attempt, to the great amusement of the passengers on the platform, shouted:

"Just bide whaur ye are, Tummas. We'll shift the station!"

MOTHER! There is no word so full of meaning and about which such tender and holy recollections cluster as that of "MOTHER"—she who watched over our helpless infancy and guided our first tottering step. Yet the life of every Expectant Mother is beset with danger and all effort should be made to avoid it.

Mother's Friend so assists nature in the change taking place that the Expectant Mother is enabled to look forward without dread, suffering or gloomy forebodings, to the hour when she experiences the joy of Motherhood. Its use insures safety to the lives of both Mother and Child, and she is found stronger after than before confinement—in short, it "makes Childbirth natural and easy," as so many have said. Don't be persuaded to use anything but

MOTHER'S FRIEND

"My wife suffered more in ten minutes with either of her other two children than she did altogether with her last, having previously used four bottles of 'Mother's Friend.' It is a blessing to any one expecting to become a MOTHER," says a customer.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN CURES INDIGESTION.

For Mothers!

THE discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA HALE, of Jefferson, Ga., says:
"When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral

has been for sixty years the popular medicine for colds, coughs, and all diseases of the throat and lungs. It cures Asthma and Bronchitis, and so soothes the irritated tissues that a refreshing sleep invariably follows its use. No mother fears an attack of Croup or Whooping Cough for her children, with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. It is a specific for that modern malady, La Grippe. It prevents Pneumonia, and has frequently cured severe cases of lung trouble marked by all the symptoms of Consumption. It is

The Standard Remedy for Colds, Coughs, and Lung Diseases.

"At the age of twenty, after a severe sickness, I was left with weak lungs, a terrible cough, and nearly all the symptoms of consumption. My doctor had no hope of my recovery; but having read the advertisements of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I determined to try that preparation. I did so, and since that time, I have used no other cough medicine. I am now seventy-two years old, and I know that at least fifty years have been added to my life by this incomparable preparation." A. W. SPERRY, Plainfield, N. J.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for nearly fifty years and found it to be an excellent remedy for all bronchial and throat diseases."
L. H. MATHEWS, Editor News-Dispatch, Oneonta, Ala.

"My first remembrance of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral dates back thirty-six years, when my mother used it for colds, coughs, croup, and sore throat. She used no other medicine in attacks of that sort among her children, and it never failed to bring prompt relief and cure. I always keep this medicine in the house, and a few doses quickly check all colds, coughs, or any inflammation of the throat and lungs. J. O'DONNELL, Seattle, Wash.

"I have sold Ayer's Medicines for forty five years. I know of no preparation that equals Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for the cure of bronchitis. It never fails to give prompt relief."
C. L. SHERWOOD, Druggist, Dowagiac, Mich.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral both in my family and practice, and consider it one of the best of its class for la grippe, colds, coughs, bronchitis, and consumption in its early stages." W. A. WRIGHT, M. D., Barnesville, Ga.

"Some years ago Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured me of the asthma after the best medical skill had failed to give me relief." F. S. HASSLER, Editor Argus, Table Rock, Neb.
